I didn't think this was going to be a strategy session but a briefing.

As I told Amy, I think this presentation will be impactful as this adverse effect isn't some abstract concept but an all too tangible one. I think it's important for others to hear about this, especially directly from the principal involved.

Renee Searfoss [2:23 PM]:

I KNOW!!!!

that's what I was thinking!!

Forren, John [2:23 PM]:

Puhlease

Renee Searfoss [2:23 PM]:

LOL

50% of the world's oxygen is supplied by amphipods
when do THEY get discussed?
poor little critters...

Forren, John [2:23 PM]:

Getting defensive, aren't we?

Renee Searfoss [2:23 PM]:

nope

and it's phytoplankton, not amphipods... oops.. lol
they aren't ready for me yet

Forren, John [2:24 PM]:

Yeah, plants.

wrong kingdo,

Renee Searfoss [2:25 PM]:

details (ip)

Forren, John [2:25 PM]:

Yeah, small ones

Renee Searfoss [2:26 PM]:

don't make me...

even better!

Forren, John [2:37 PM]:

lol

Renee Searfoss [3:01 PM]:

so?

Am I going to cry?

Forren, John [3:02 PM]:

There will be another call where all those details will be discussed. Supposedly, all regions received $25k

Renee Searfoss [3:02 PM]:

yes, but that was in addition to the analytical funding we received and it was 26k I believe

Forren, John [3:03 PM]:

They said 25

Renee Searfoss [3:04 PM]:

I will check, but maybe we are just special :D

Forren, John [3:05 PM]:

lol. Or may just you are

Renee Searfoss [3:05 PM]:

You were doing a lot of eye rolling this morning, Mags. Sorry you seemed so disappointed.

Margaret Passmore [2:35 PM]:

(b)(6) Personal privacy I was not doing any eye rolling. I was honest about how I felt about the retreat. If there is no clear purpose or goal that requires all of OMA in one place for two days, it's a waste of time and resources in my opinion. I like the idea of ongoing meetings to explore collaborative projects that are substantive.

Forren, John [2:47 PM]:

I'm sorry to hear that, Mags. I know you have a lot going on. But yes, you were rolling your eyes at least twice that I say -- subconscious perhaps. In any case, I don't want to have a retreat without purpose either. I asked Lou specifically if he would participate in some of these meetings and he agreed. I needed to address any dissenting opinions I thought he might have some. I just didn't want people to judge the agenda before it was developed. I have specific goals in mind but I wanted others to provide that feedback too -- thus the one-on-ones in the meeting agenda this morning.

I'll have the Congressional page totals so far, too

Eckman, Sheila [12:46 PM]:

I won't have page numbers, only doc numbers...

I was planning to run a big document-combine exercise for page #s before the Kevin meeting of the remaining Congressional page #s, non-Congressional page #s, and totals plus the past Congressional page #s

Eckman, Sheila [12:54 PM]:

I have a "total" folder in my FOIA file, that is all of the subfolders divided into releasable, A/C, deliberative, except for interagency which I have yet to go through. If you feel inclined to do page numbers on these, go for it! approximate number of non-produced docs is 41 releasable, 146 A/C, 662 deliberative. Plus 178 interagency.

*upload files individually

Klasen, Matthew [1:40 PM]:
details are here: <https://ssoprod.epa.gov/sso/jsp/obloginESCNew.jsp>
you can log in yourself now, and you can create a project-specific page
I don't think it necessarily helps with bulk uploading, though, so that would still be a time-waster

Epting, Steven [1:41 PM]:

yes, but have a 6:00 call

Klasen, Matthew [5:48 PM]:

ok

thanks

Klasen, Matthew [6:01 PM]:

hey Jeff -- sorry; didn't get to call you back till 5:57

obviously my timeliness is atrocious today

let's chat in the morning, if that works -- or I can call you from my cell later this evening if helpful

FRITHSEN, JEFF [6:01 PM]:

Klasen, Matthew [1:20 PM]:

hey Jeff -- I think so

I actually haven't had a chance to look at your comments from yesterday yet, so I don't have a definitive answer

but I assume you gave me all I need

(we're getting another set of BB docs to the Hill today, which has been distracting me)

FRITHSEN, JEFF [1:20 PM]:

Great! I drafted my responses late (late) last night and hope they make sense in the light of day!

Klasen, Matthew [1:21 PM]:

thanks again

I'll let you know if I have questions after I take a look on a related note -- the 4 pm on Bristol Bay I assume is to discuss an updated version of the Bob P briefing?

Orvin, Chris [11:40 AM]:

When Polyphemus asks for Odysseus' name, promising him a quest-gift if he answers, Odysseus tells him "Οὐτις", which means "no one", "nothing".^[2] Being drunk, Polyphemus thinks of it as a real name and says that he will eat "Nobody" last and that this shall be his guest-gift—a vicious insult both to the tradition of hospitality and to Odysseus. With that, Polyphemus crashes to the floor and passes out. Odysseus, with the help of his men, lifts the flaming stake, charges forward and drives it into Polyphemus' eye, blinding him. Polyphemus yells for help from his fellow cyclopes that "Nobody" has hurt him. The other cyclopes think Polyphemus is making a fool out of them or that it must be a matter with the gods, and they grumble and go away.

FYI--Silver Spring to Germantown were $225/night; Frederick is only $95. I will be commuting if allowed to go at all.

Jennifer Fulton [8:05 AM]:

ok...makes sense. I'm surprised it's so much more expensive (Frederick is a pretty busy area now too).

Pond, Greg [8:03 PM]:
hey, I'm available. Working on BCG from yesterdays meeting in MD. Have a Monday deadline. What about you? Heading home or working at home?
Stefania Shamet [8:05 PM]:
At home and checking emails. Thank God they didn't give me a Blackberry or I'd really over-do it.
Pond, Greg [8:07 PM]:
You'd be addicted to your "crack berry" if you did have one. Did you see John Craynon webinar Wed? I did not but we are sending him comments. Wondered if you were interested in our response.
Stefania Shamet [8:10 PM]:
Always interested. (b)(5) Deliberative process

Pond, Greg [8:11 PM]:
Hmmm. I will forward John Forren's email from today re: ARIES and Matt Klasen thinking about how to deal.
Stefania Shamet [8:13 PM]:
Looking at my emails (FINALLY after the 6-minute sign in process...) I think I've got his email to Matt
Yay! Matt listened to me (we had this discussion on Tues)
Pond, Greg [8:14 PM]:
OK, I sent anyway but attached last draft of comments with Susan C. edits.

Pond, Greg [10:48 AM]:
awesome. You should have heard the kudos that Lois and someone else (?) kept giving us, and EPA in general. At one point it was kind of sappy and since I was on speaker phone Sherri walked by and rolled her eyes. All in all, it was a well received and we were thanked numerous times for our work.

Kelly Krock [10:52 AM]:
Funny on the cheesy kudos but good. Glad they are openly supportive of EPA.
